191091228999 3½ Minutes, Ten Bullets 2015 "On November 23, 2012, a black 17-year-old named Jordan Davis and three friends drove into a gas station in Jacksonville, Florida. Davis and his friends got into a verbal altercation with 45-year-old Michael Dunn, a white man who took issue with the volume of the teenagers' rap music. When Davis refused to turn down the music, Dunn opened fire on the car of unarmed teenagers. He fired 10 bullets, three of which hit Davis who died at the scene. Dunn fled, but was taken into custody the next day. He claimed that he shot in self-defense. Filmed over a period of 18 months, ""3½ Minutes, Ten Bullets"" intercuts intimate scenes of Davis' family and friends with footage from Michael Dunn's trial and police interrogation, news reports and prison phone recordings between Dunn and his fiancée. Drawing on 200 hours of footage, the documentary aims to reconstruct the night of the murder, delving into the intricate web of racial prejudice in 21st century America and how such prejudices can result in tragedy. "3 ½ Minutes, Ten Bullets" also details the journey of Jordan Davis' parents from grief to activism and explores public opinion on Florida's "Stand Your Ground Law." Director Marc Silver is particularly interested in examining the varying perceptions of Davis in life and death. "I was drawn to Jordan Davis' story because it appeared to be the perfect storm of racial profiling, access to guns and laws that give people the confidence to use those guns with no sense of duty to retreat from the situation," he says.

The documentary made its world premiere at the 2015 Sundance Film Festival, where it won a Special Jury Award for Social Impact. This DVD features surround sound, the official "3½ Minutes, Ten Bullets" trailer and English subtitles for the deaf and hearing-impaired." Lucia McBath, Ron Davis, Michael David Dunn, Russell Healey

Discovering that there are no laws in Paris that could protect a loving wife from the whims of a vainglorious vixen, a fugitive felon (Noel Madison) gives Françoise surprising cover for a most desperate and deranged act. Judy Holliday reprises her Tony®-winning Broadway role of irrepressible switchboard girl Ella in a jubilant adaptation that marked her final movie and the final teaming of movie-musical titans Arthur Freed and Vincente Minnelli. Dean Martin costars as a struggling playwright in for a surprise when he learns "Mom's" identity. Audie England; Costas Mandylor; Eric Da Silva; Raven Snow; Rory Campbell; Emma Louise Moore; Bernard Zette; Marek Vasut; Markéta Hrubesová; Daniel Leza; Stephen Halbert; Dale Wyatt

888574462123 Performance (1970) (MOD) 1 DVD-9 1970 "In underworld terms, Chas Devlin is a "performer," a gangster with a talent for violence and intimidation. Turner is a reclusive rock superstar. When Chas and Turner meet, their worlds collide - and the impact is both exotic and explosive. James Fox and Mick Jagger indelibly play Chas and Turner in this spellbinder of illusion and reality, decadence and decay. Fugitive Chas hides in Turner's cavernous house. Events then spiral into an eerie breakdown of barriers and roles in which Chas sees his sense of reality vanish. And Turner's experiment of self-discovery leads to a shocking final performance of his own. Co-directed by Donald Cammell and Nicolas Roeg, Performance has become a modern movie legend. Experience it and understand why." Mick Jagger; James Fox; Anita Pallenberg; Michele Breton; Ann Sidney; John Bindon; Stanley Meadows; Allan Cuthbertson; Anthony Morton; Johnny Shannon; Anthony Valentine

888574465254 Revolution: Revisited (2009) (MOD) 2008 "The American Revolution is more than the war of Washington and Jefferson, great issues and radical thought. It's also a struggle of ordinary people, unlettered in combat, politics and government. Al Pacino stars as a rough-hewn trapper drawn into the conflict in this compelling adventure framed by the violent summer of 1776 and the bloody victory of Yorktown in 1781. Revising the theatrical release exclusively for home viewing, director Hugh Hudson (Chariots of Fire) depicts America's birth in a visceral style unlike most period movies. The production design, cinematography, John Corigliano score and strong cast (Donald Sutherland, Nastassja Kinski and Joan Plowright) combine for an effect revolutionary and powerful." Al Pacino; Donald Sutherland; Nastassja Kinski

Overnight, Ronnie is a national TV star and the toast of Hollywood! But it isn't long until clean living and morality get the better of him and he can't get arrested anymore, no matter how hard he tries. Is this the end of his career...or the beginning of a new one? Featuring cameos from an all-star comedy cast, Run Ronnie Run! is nonstop insanity that turns reality TV on its head! Bob Odenkirk; Nikki Cox; E.J. De La Pena; R. Lee Ermey; Tom Kenny; David Cross

888574320652 Scarecrow (MOD) 1973 Just out of jail after serving time on an assault rap, Max (Gene Hackman) is headed for Pittsburgh to open a deluxe car wash. Back from five years at sea, Lion (Al Pacino) wants to hit Detroit and visit the child he's never seen. The dreams may not be glorious, but you'll want Max and Lion to fulfill them, because Scarecrow, cowinner of the 1973 Cannes Film Festival Grand Prize, has a heart as big as its cross-country journey. Its hard-luck drifters drift permanently into our souls. This is due to teamwork of a high order: the moving performances of Hackman and Pacino, the sensitive direction of Jerry Schatzberg and the glowing landscape cinematography of Vilmos Zsigmond. Hit the road with these two. You'll find the trip unforgettable. Gene Hackman; Al Pacino; Dorothy Tristan; Ann Wedgeworth; Richard Lynch; Eileen Brennan; Penny Allen; Richard Hackman; Al Cingolani; Rutanya Alda

Roat wants a heroin-stuffed doll he thinks Susy has. All Susy wants is to survive. Dim the lights, check the door's chain lock, and brace yourself for a chiller as polished as the steel of Roat's blade. Audrey Hepburn earned her fifth Academy Award® nomination as Susy. Alan Arkin is pure evil as Roat, master of disguise and accents. Jack Weston and Richard Crenna costar as his henchmen. Building to a heart-pounding one-on-one confrontation, Wait Until Dark belongs to the screen's most memorable thrillers" (David Shipman, The Story of Cinema)." Audrey Hepburn; Alan Arkin; Richard Crenna; Efrem Zimbalist, Jr.; Jack Weston; Samantha Jones; Julie Herrod; Frank O'Brien

888574460280 Charlotte Gray (2001) (MOD) 2001 "Charlotte Gray's World War II assignment could be the first of many. Or her fatal last. The people she meets could be friends. Or insidious traitors. Trained to be an undercover courier for England, Charlotte straps on a parachute and falls from the sky into Vichy France. There she will assist the French Resistance in its defiance of Nazi occupation. Only one out of three couriers will return home. Cate Blanchett enthalls as Charlotte, who goes behind enemy lines while keeping secret her personal mission to find her lover, an RAF pilot downed over France. And Gillian Armstrong (Mrs. Soffel, Little Women) directs a sterling cast that includes Billy Crudup (Almost Famous) and Michael Gambon (Gosford Park)." Cate Blanchett; Billy Crudup; Michael Gambon; Rupert Penry Jones; Anton Lesser; Ron Cook; James Fleet

Her life is empty until she finds unexpected companions in a bold and sassy jazz singer (Queen Latifah, Chicago) and a down-on-his-luck elevator operator (DeVito) in a fashionable Fifth Avenue building. Although no longer alone, her life still seems unfulfilled, until a passionate kiss from a stranger opens her eyes to all that she's been missing. Featuring a classic jazz soundtrack with stunning vocal performances by Queen Latifah, Living Out Loud is "a refreshingly original comedy" (Bob Thomas, Associated Press). Holly Hunter; Danny DeVito; Queen Latifah; Martin Donovan; Richard Schiff; Elias Koteas; Eddie Cibrian

888574462109 Nuts (1987) (MOD) 1987 "The pending case: the People of the State of New York vs. Claudia Draper. The issue: Is Claudia mentally competent to stand trial? Sure, she's shocking. Outspoken. Explosive. Defiant. But is she "nuts?" Barbra Streisand is Claudia and Richard Dreyfuss is her public defender in the blistering courtroom thriller Nuts, and their first-time pairing results in "the dramatic performances of their careers" (Pat Collins, WWOR-TV New York). The sterling supporting cast - Maureen Stapleton, Karl Malden, James Whitmore, Eli Wallach, Robert Webber and Leslie Nielsen - has been directed to a perfect pitch by Hollywood legend Martin Ritt (Hud, Norma Rae). Claudia holds nothing back, so this day in court is one you'll never forget." For the Lincoln High A-squad, cheering comes easy, but when team captain Diane (Marley Shelton, Valentine, Pleasantville, The Bachelor) falls in love with the star quarterback, Jack (James Marsden, X-Men, Gossip, Disturbing Behavior), it leads to some unexpected problems for the pair. That's when she calls on friends to help her with her goal: to rob the local bank branch. The rebel of the bunch, Kansas (Mena Suvari, American Beauty, American Pie, Loser), masterminds the plan for the most outrageous heist this small town has ever seen. Can the Betty Doll bank robbers pull it off and still make it to the big game in time? Will the bitter eyewitness, Lisa (Marla Sokoloff, Dude, Where's My Car?, TV's The Practice) turn them in? See what happens when the good girls go bad." Marley Shelton; James Marsden; Mena Suvari; Marla Sokoloff; Alexandra Holden; Rachel Blanchard; Sara Marsh; Melissa George; Sean Young

888574446161 Bad Day at Black Rock (1955) BD-50 1955 "Folks in Black Rock have their own way of welcoming mysterious, one-armed stranger John J. Maccreedy. He's welcome to leave. Director John Sturges (The Great Escape) ramps up the tension while revealing Maccreedy's mission and the town's grim secret. Spencer Tracy; Robert Ryan; Anne Francis; Dean Jagger; Walter Brennan; Ernest Borgnine; John Ericson; Lee Marvin; Russell Collins; Walter Sande

888574462048 Harvey Girls, The (1945) (MOD) 1946 Vittles, songs and dance are amply ladled out when Judy Garland headlines The Harvey Girls, a joyous musical slice of Americana celebrating the restaurants that brought extra helpings of civilization to Old West rail passengers. Highlights include Garland holding saloon patrons at jittery gunpoint to retrieve stolen beefsteaks, Ray Bolger's loose-limbed comic hoofing, Virginia O'Brien's sure-shot comic timing, Angela Lansbury's stylish wickedness as a saloon singer and the "On the Atchison, Topeka and the Santa Fe" romp (nabbing it the 1946 Best Song Academy Award®) that's "deservedly famous, one of the most triumphant sequences in screen-musical history" (Pauline Kael, The New Yorker). All aboard! Judy Garland; John Hodiak; Ray Bolger; Preston Foster; Virginia O'Brien; Angela Lansbury; Marjorie Main; Chill Wills; Kenny Baker; Selena Royle; Cyd Charisse; Ruth Brady; Catherine McLeod

Susan Hayward earned a Best Actress Oscar® nomination and a Cannes Film Festival Best Actress Award for her searing portrayal of the real-life performer. Hayward's achievements don't stop there. She provides her own vocals for "Sing You Sinners," "Happiness Is a Thing Called Joe" and more standards. Susan Hayward; Richard Conte; Eddie Albert; Jo Van Fleet; Don Taylor; Ray Danton; Margo; Virginia Gregg 888574462062 In the Good Old Summertime (1949) (MOD) 1949 "In the Good Old Summertime - a tale of squabbling music-shop clerks who don't know they're romantic pen pals - shares a celebrated movie lineage that includes James Stewart and Margaret Sullavan in The Shop Around the Corner and Tom Hanks and Meg Ryan in You've Got Mail.

In between those two, Judy Garland and Van Johnson had mail plus Gold Old tunes evoking an era of straw boaters and silvery moons. Sparked by Garland's comedic zest and musical appeal, this confection is "one of the sweetest, most unpretentious entertainments of 1949" (Clive Hirschhorn, The Hollywood Musical). It's also a nostalgic farewell and a sunny hello. Buster Keaton appears in his final film for the studio he first joined in 1928. And Liza Minnelli, all of 18 months young, makes her debut in the finale." Judy Garland; Van Johnson; S.Z. Sakall; Spring Byington; Clinton Sundberg; Buster Keaton; Marcia Van Dyke; Lillian Bronson; Liza Minnelli
