The 24th season of this Emmy * award-winning series has members returning from previous amazing expeditions. Trekking 23,000 miles across three continents, nine countries and 22 cities, the teams are challenged to perform various feats that test agility, strength and courage. In China they brave somersaults off a tower while suspended 300 feet in the air; in Rome they battle a seasoned gladiator; in the Swiss alps teams deliver milk by means of a Bernese Mountain Dog; and in London, face off for penalty kicks against a professional goalkeeper. In addition, while racing through Las Vegas during the final leg of the race, the remaining teams must master the art of magic. Each team, including a father and son, mother and son, Harlem Globetrotters and a pair of YouTube hosts, were selected to return to The Amazing Race for a second -- and in some cases a third time. The 24th installment of the reality series aired in Spring 2014. 1/1/2019 810162039196 Amazing Race Season 25 2014 Eleven two-person teams compete for $1 million dollars in the 25th season of The Amazing Race. With fans cheering in support from the sidelines, New York City's Times Square serves as the starting line in the Race as the teams continue on to traverse 26,000 miles across eight countries, including first-time visits to the United States Virgin Islands, Malta and the Shetland Islands of Scotland. Along the way, the racers face varied challenges including learning the complex steps of Changing of the Guard for the English Court; working like Shetland Sheepdogs and shepherding sheep through an obstacle course; rappelling down Malta's Blue Grotto; and tightrope walking between towers of a high-rise Singapore hotel. During the season, teams compete in the 300th leg of the series, driving a go-kart around Sicily's Mount Pellegrino, in an ode to the world's oldest sports car racing event. The teams include married pro surfers Bethany Hamilton, a shark attack survivor, and Adam Dirks; wrestling stars Brooke Adams and Robbie E; as well as Survivor: South Pacific contestants Whitney Duncan and Keith Tolleson. The season also introduces a new immunity called The Save, awarded to those coming in first in the first leg of the race. The winning team could use it before Leg 9, if they came in last place on an elimination leg. The 25th installment of the reality series aired in Fall 2014. "The Creepy Line" has gotten strong reviews and a solid doc to add to your Social Interest page. Here is a recent NYTimes article that is a must read:

The Creepy Line Review

2/19/2019 810162039752 The Creepy Line 2016 An eye-opening documentary, The Creepy Line reveals the stunning degree to which society is manipulated by Google and Facebook and blows the lid off the remarkably subtle - hence powerful - manner in which they do it. The Creepy Line is a title culled from the words of former Google CEO Eric Schmidt, when during a 2010 interview he explained Google's code of conduct: "The Google policy on a lot of things is to get right up to the creepy line and not cross it." However, as Dr. Robert Epstein explains in the film, "Google crosses the creepy line every day". Containing ground-breaking interviews with Jordan B. Peterson, Peter Schweizer, and others, The Creepy Line offers an explosive look at the meddling and intervening done by Google and Facebook on their supposedly "neutral platforms". The Creepy Line takes the conversation about data privacy and control further than ever before by examining what Google and Facebook do once they control a user's data. Not only is this data sold to the highest bidder, but it is used it to mold, massage, and manipulate the public consciousness while influencing opinion on a vast scale - all with the goal of transforming society to fit their worldview. Offering first-hand accounts, scientific experiments and detailed analysis, The Creepy Line examines what is at risk when these two tech titans have free reign to utilize the public's most private and personal data to manipulate society. There is no question that the "creepy line" is getting ever-creepier, and that the tech giants have crossed it. Jordan B. Peterson, Robert Epstein, Peter Schweizer Current Affairs, Documentary, Social Issues
