MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL

It's another home run from our content partner, Cinedigm, as Major League Baseball titles are now available for AV retailers! Produced by Shout! Factory, these titles cover all aspects of America's favorite pastime in the Prime 9 series- all available now for presale.

Major League Baseball (MLB) is the most historic professional sports league in the United States and consists of 30 member clubs in the U.S. and Canada, representing the highest level of professional baseball. Major League Baseball is the best-attended sport in North America, and since 2004, MLB has enjoyed its best-attended seasons in the history of the game, with each regular season eclipsing the 73 million mark. Now led by Commissioner Robert D. Manfred, Jr., MLB currently features record levels of labor peace, competitive balance and industry revenues, as well as the most comprehensive drug-testing program in American professional sports. MLB remains committed to making an impact in the communities of the U.S., Canada and throughout the world, perpetuating the sport's larger role in society and permeating every facet of baseball's business, marketing and community relations endeavors. With the continued success of MLB Advanced Media and MLB Network, MLB continues to find innovative ways for its fans to enjoy America's National Pastime and a truly global game. Dock Street Productions Release Adoption

Drama

From its kick starter campaign two years ago, Dock Street Productions brings to Allied Vaughn retailers a touching film celebrating adoption and a look at foster homes. In his occupation as a teacher, Nick Westfall noticed the impact of unconventional parenting on a child's life. He then began writing a screenplay about a young boy without parents. After meeting with at-risk child centered programs such as Guardian Ad Litem and DREAMS of Wilmington, he and his filmmaking team vowed to bring forth the issues of child placement.

Finding Home is a screenplay written to challenge our definition of home through the lens of adoption. The plot visits familial values that differ from home to home.

"Dock Street Productions is a team of award-winning filmmakers producing films for social change. Dock Street missions to support films for social change in every phase of production. FINDING HOME is the company's first feature film to screen across the country for film festivals and National Adoption Day. Currently, Dock Street is in pre-production with two new features slated for 2017 - one centering around religion and the other on the power of imagination."

National Geographic New Wave of Docs on DVD

024543376019 Atlantis Rising 2017 Executive Produced by James Cameron, Atlantis Discovered investigates and explores intriguing artifacts like archaeological finds, satellite photographs, manuscripts, underwater explorations, and more. While decoding the artifacts, the show delves into the tales surrounding them, seeking the truth behind each piece to reveal the stories within.

024543388562 Continent 7: Antarctica 2017 At -100 degrees F, you can burn up to 5,000 calories a day, and with winter at less than 1% humidity, your body will lose water just breathing. This is Antarctica, where close-knit communities of scientists, engineers, and hardened field vets have forged an existence unlike anything on our planet, fighting brutal conditions to conduct crucial science.

024543352488 National Geographic Classics: Cats & Dogs 2017 This release from National Geographic includes a collection of fascinating documentaries the animals that humans often feel the closest to: cats and dogs. The programs examine the history of pets and humans, and how dogs and cats have evolved biologically over the hundreds of years that they've been part of peoples' home

024543352761 National Geographic Classics: History's Most Notorious 2017 Explore some of history's notorious mysteries and conspiracy theories in this collection of 6 classic programs. Programs include Undercover History: The Hunt for the Boston Strangler, Final Report: Oklahoma City Bombing, Final Report: Watergate, Final Report: DC Sniper, Final Report: OJ Simpson Trial, and Final Report: Getting Gotti.

024543352525 National Geographic: Dinosaur Hunters 2017 More than 80 million years ago, the Oviraptor, a strange bird-like dinosaur, walked the sandy banks of an oasis in what is now the "Gobi in Mongolia." A creature that measured some 8 feet in length, its razor-shard claws were deadly weapons of protection for guarding its offspring from constant danger. Now join a daring expedition of scientists as they uncover a treasure trove of fossils, shattering long-held myths about this dinosaur's behavior.

024543352464 National Geographic: Witness: G.I. Homecoming 2017 America's wars in Afghanistan and Iraq have taken a heavy toll on both service people and their families. Children growing up without a parent; husbands and wives separated; parents wondering ever day if they'll ever see their sons or daughters again. For many military families, this almost unbearable strain makes the moment they're finally reunited that much sweeter. Increasingly, these moments are being captured on tape giving rise to the surprise soldier homecoming video. National Geographic reveals the human stories and emotional first moments captured on film as loved ones are finally reunited.

024543352754 National Geographic: Lost Faces of The Bible 2017 Though myth-busting archaeology, dramatic recreations, and cutting-edge forensic investigation, National Geographic attempts to accurately reconstruct the faces that may have walked beside the legends of the bible. With unprecedented access to four ancient skulls from the Holy Land, Lost Faces of the of the Bible seeks to rebuild not only a face, but the life and times of a bygone era. Traveling across the globe, archaeologists and scholars separate fact from myth, while a team of forensic anthropologists and artists put flesh on bone, using traditional and state-of- the-art methods of facial reconstruction.

024543352624 National Geographic: Nefertiti and The Lost Dynasty 2017 It's among the most tantalizing mysteries in all of ancient Egyptian archaeology: What became of the legendary Queen Nefertiti and Akhenaten, the radical pharaoh and probable father of King Tutankhamen? And why were the relics of their fabled Amarna dynasty deliberately obliterated by later rulers. Now, an international team of scientists sets out to solve the riddle of Nefertiti's disappearance and the fate of her royal family. Using state-of-the-art-CT scanning technology to examine mummies linked to the Amarna mystery, researchers will produce the first detailed 3-D images of the remains- and unravel stunning, new answers to the 3,300 year-old puzzle of Nefertiti and the Lost Dynast

024543352747 National Geographic: Titanic - How It Really Sank 2017 The sinking of the Titanic was far more than a simple accident. It was a tragedy that could have been prevented. It was the result of a long chain of mistakes: a fatal series of avoidable human errors that sent the Titanic and more than half of her passengers to their water graves. Based around the official inquiry held immediately after the event, plus evidence that's come to light since the wreck of the Titanic was discovered in 1985, National Geographic, in this drama-documentary special explores "Titanic: How It Really Sank".

024543352617 National Geographic: Nature's Fury 2017 This National Geographic documentary explores the causes and effects of nature's more destructive forces; hurricanes, earthquakes, floods, and tornadoes. Through actual footage of storms and disasters, from both media and the National Geographic cameras, the viewer is shown how powerful and unpredictable nature can be. As with most National Geographic films, science and fact take precedence over sensationalism; thus, National Geographic: Nature's Fury also contains commentary and graphics that explain what causes an earthquake, a flood or other natural disasters, as well as what scientists are doing to help protect people from harm

024543352570 National Geographic: Killer Quest 2017 National Geographic joins veteran wildlife cameraman Andrew Manske and hard-nosed outdoorsman Brian Bildson as they venture into some of North America's most remote and inhospitable regions in an attempt to capture extraordinarily rare footage of wolves hunting bison. Leading their team to the vast grasslands of Canada's Northwest Territories, where raw survival is the only rule, the team suffers cracking ice roads, frigid temperatures, attacking mosquitoes, and isolation in hopes of recording the spectacular: a pack of wolves stalking and taking down a massive wood bison.

024543352655 National Geographic: American War Generals 2017 American War Generals is the story of how the Army's withdrawal from Vietnam shaped America's future wars and the generals who fought them. "We think if we go to war we automatically win," General Stanley McChrystal tells us. "I realized in the summer of 2005 that we were in a very difficult in Iraq and there was every possibility we could lose." In this two hour special, America's leading combat generals talk about how they spent their careers training to fight a conventional enemy like the Soviet Union, with tanks, clear frontlines and an enemy in uniform, but then found themselves bogged down fighting guerilla wars in Iraq and Afghanistan after 9/11- the very type of war the Army hoped it would never fight again after Vietnam.

024543352495 National Geographic: Antarctic Wildlife Adventure 2017 Set sail with an extraordinary family as they spend an Antarctic summer studying isolated colonies of penguins amid the icy wonders of the Earth's most spectacular wilderness. Aboard their 50-foot steel-hulled schooner, naturalist Sally and Jerome Poncet and their three young boys embark on an incredible adventure as they document the fascinating life cycles of various penguin species, as well as battle elephant seals, massive humpback whales, and other intriguing creatures that inhabit this starkly beautiful realm. Also, meet an elite team of climbers and adventurers, including Jon Krakauer, author, who brave fierce conditions and attempt to be the first to climb one of Antarctica's most forbidding peak

COLLECTION, VOLUME TWO

BEFORE HOLLYWOOD
THERE WAS FORT LEE, N.J.
Early Moviemaking in New Jersey

889290091017 The Best Arbuckle/Keaton Collection, Volume Two

1918-1919

From 1913 to 1916, Roscoe Fatty Arbuckle rose from the ranks of bit player to writer, director and star of comedies for Mack Sennetts Keystone Film Company. Because of Sennetts belief that actors were interchangeable, he lost Arbuckle to producer Joseph M. Schenck, who not only paid the comedian handsomely, but also permitted him complete creative control. To help in the new venture, Arbuckle recruited Buster Keaton, popular star of a knockabout vaudeville act; Keaton took a large pay cut to act in motion pictures, and Arbuckle welcomed his ideas and taught him all he knew about making movies. This volume of the DVD collection presents films that Arbuckle and Keaton made for Schenck between 1918 and 1919; they are presented chronologically so we can watch Buster grow from Arbuckles bit player to his full partner. Following the 1921 scandal that was inflamed by a publicity-seeking prosecutor and the tabloid press, Arbuckles films were withdrawn from circulation in America, and the negatives were not preserved. The films in this collection were gathered from international archives and private collections. The English intertitles are new, and except for Back Stage, derived from non-English sources. All the films are digitally mastered from 35mm, sometimes directly from the nitrate originals. VOLUME TWO INCLUDES: Good Night, Nurse (Jul. 1918) Back Stage (Aug. 1919) with Molly Malone, John Coogan The Hayseed (Oct. 1919) with Molly Malone, John Coogan The Garage (Dec. 1919) with Molly Malone, Harry McCoy and music by Robert Israel. 889290247988 Before Hollywood There was Fort Lee, New Jersey enormously interesting DVD, produced in cooperation with the Fort Lee Film Commission, is perhaps the most detailed look we shall ever have at early Fort Lee film production, a center of the American film industry when Hollywood was still orange groves. Thomas Hanlons 1964 documentary Before Hollywood There was Fort Lee, New Jersey uses rare still photographs, almost-complete versions of such films as Edisons Rescued from an Eagles Nest (1907) and Biographs The Curtain Pole (1909) and poignant footage from 1935 of the great glass studios in ruins to show the rise and fall of silent filmmaking in the village on the Hudson. D.W. Griffiths location work in Fort Lee is represented by The New York Hat (1912), featuring Mary Pickford and Lionel Barrymore. Maurice Tourneurs 1917 feature A Girls Folly, had not been rediscovered when Hanlons film was produced, but its a movie about filmmaking in Fort Lee which uses the then Peerless Studio as background. The whole thing ties together with a pleasant little story co-authored by Tourneur and Frances Marion, then just starting her spectacular screenwriting career. Director Maurice Tourneur is further represented by an enchanting hour-long feature of 1914, The Wishing Ring, taken in the village environs as well as in the Paragon Studio. What historian Kevin Brownlow has called its freshness and impish vitality is hardly diminished by nine decades, and artistically this may be the most accomplished film produced anywhere in the world by 1914. Variety wrote that the whole atmosphere of the tale is light and as graceful as a minuet and colored with the nicety of a pastel. The tinted print has a charming digital stereo score by the Mont Alto Motion Picture Orchestra.

1912 - 1964 This
